

NOTICE OF PUBLIC STAKEHOLDER ENGAGEMENT EVENT GOVERNOR'S COUNCIL ON CLIMATE CHANGE

Thursday, May 5, 2016

5:30 PM - 7:30 PM

Connecticut Department of Energy and Environmental Protection
Multiple Locations and Live Video Via Web Browser

Members of public are invited to attend a stakeholder engagement event.

At this event stakeholders will have the opportunity to learn about and provide feedback on the technologies and measures that will be modeled in the Long range Energy Alternatives Planning System (LEAP). This widely-used software tool for energy policy analysis and climate change mitigation assessment will help us understand the GHG reduction potential of various measures and technologies.

The Hartford Public Library will be hosting the primary event, with six satellite locations around the state (see list of locations below) and a live viewing via a web browser. Participants at the satellite locations will view the presentations and then engage in facilitated dialogue at the local level. Light refreshments will be available beginning at 5:00pm.

We ask that you please register for the event HERE. Location details will be provided upon registration. Remote viewing of the event is accessible through any web browser by clicking here.

Satellite Locations:

- Eastern Connecticut State University, Willimantic
- Housatonic Community College, Bridgeport
- Middlesex Community College, Middletown
- Naugatuck Valley Community College, Waterbury
- Norwalk Community College, Norwalk
- Yale University, New Haven
