DECD IMPACT

DECD's impact under Governor Dannel P. Malloy:

1,546 companies are being assisted, with 16,838 jobs to be created and 51,975 jobs retained

$2.2 billion has been leveraged from the private-sector to grow jobs and expand the economy through these programs

107% of expected jobs created

Drawing on Connecticut's storied past, and focused on the state's bright future, the Department of Economic and Community Development (DECD) followed the course laid out last year in the agency's strategic plan. DECD is guided by the core principle that "until every person in the state who wants a job can find one, there is more work to do."

Again this year, DECD and its partners built on Connecticut's globally competitive position by investing in the business clusters that drive our economy and encouraging innovation and entrepreneurial development. The department supported communities by investing in small businesses and redeveloping brownfields. Collaborating with other agencies, DECD made progress toward a more open and customer-focused government and ever-improving business climate. Leveraging the initiatives and investments of its allies in education, transportation, and the business community, the department announced assistance agreements with both new and established companies and organizations throughout the year.

The state continues to take a comprehensive approach to strengthening the industries that are vital to long-term economic prosperity. DECD supported companies in sectors that fuel job growth and attract new capital investment to the state. Activities in the aerospace/advanced manufacturing sector show the coordinated, forward-thinking approach that has been adopted by Connecticut's economic development team.

AEROSPACE and ADVANCED MANUFACTURING:

“UTC’s decision to invest now in new facilities in our state is a strong signal of their belief in Connecticut’s talented workforce, commitment to innovation, and determination to build a world-class business climate.”
— Governor Malloy

The biggest news of the year in the aerospace sector was a creative new strategic partnership – expected to have an impact on more than 75,000 Connecticut jobs – announced in February between Governor Malloy and United Technologies Corporation.

UTC will invest up to $500 million to upgrade and expand its aerospace research, development and manufacturing facilities over the next five years, and expects to invest up to $4 billion in research and other capital expenditures in the state.

The Connecticut Aerospace Reinvestment Act required no new borrowing or payments by the state, and UTC construction and investments are expected to begin this year and continue through 2018.

“This agreement secures the future of aerospace in Connecticut. It will open a bright new chapter for our aerospace businesses, for our thousands of local suppliers and for the people of Connecticut.”
— former UTC Chairman & CEO Louis Chênevert

During the legislative session, DECD joined with legislators and business leaders to support Governor Malloy's legislation that established a new $30 million Manufacturing Innovation Fund, representing a long-term commitment to catalyze the strategic investments necessary for a new era of innovation and economic growth.

The fund gives priority to companies in Connecticut's historic manufacturing communities, positively impacting local economic development in some of the state's most depressed communities. It's focused on the need for smaller manufacturers in our core aerospace supplier community to meet the unprecedented capital investment required by the rapidly expanding global aerospace industry. The first program, a customer-friendly "voucher" grant, will help smaller companies make needed innovation investments in talent, equipment, technology or other needed skills.

Manufacturers need a pipeline of talent—both now and in the future—to succeed. That's why DECD enthusiastically supports Manufacturing Month as part of the "Dream It. Do It." program. Led by a coalition of Connecticut manufacturers, trade associations, educational institutions, this month-long event engages and educates students about the value of careers in manufacturing.

The department also took steps to address potential future challenges to the sector. DECD teamed with its quasi-public partner the Connecticut Center for Advanced Technology, Inc. (CCAT) and formed the Regional Aerospace and Defense Exchange (RADE) initiative. The partners received a $1.25 million U.S. Department of Defense grant to study the impact of defense contract reductions on Connecticut and New England.

In addition to aerospace, defense, and advanced manufacturing, the state continued to make investments in important industry clusters, such as healthcare/life sciences, financial services and insurance, digital media, green technology and tourism. For each of these strategic areas, a comprehensive strategy is being deployed – one which will build on our key strengths and continue to attract and retain global leaders in each cluster.

DECD IN ACTION

With an unprecedented increase in global demand for aerospace components, and a business decision by prime contractors like Pratt & Whitney and General Electric to shift more work to their supply chain, the state took a more active role in supporting the supply chain companies. Flanagan Industries – a second-generation jet engine and ground turbine component manufacturer in Glastonbury – received a $2.5 million DECD loan to assist with a $6.5 million expansion project that created a new state-of-the-art facility and 20 new jobs.

Creating a business environment that nurtures innovators and entrepreneurs is a top priority of the Malloy administration.

That's why DECD and its quasi-public partner Connecticut Innovations continue to work with large and small companies and support innovative business models that will drive future growth in Connecticut.

DECD worked closely with Pfizer, the state's bioscience cluster known as Connecticut United for Research Excellence (CURE), and other state and local stakeholders to re-purpose one of Pfizer's facilities as a bioscience innovation center with new lab space. Called CURE Innovation Commons, the technology incubator will provide a much-needed resource for the concentration of technology companies and scientific talent already located in southeastern Connecticut, and economic benefits to the state as a whole.

DECD's entire investment portfolio reflects the diversity of innovative companies that call Connecticut home.

Continuing to build on the state's rapidly growing reputation in biotechnology and pharmaceuticals, Governor Malloy announced that DECD would provide a $4.25 million loan along with a $1 million equity investment from Connecticut Innovations in support of New Haven biotech startup Arvinas, led by Yale's Craig Crews.

Home-grown Connecticut company, the well-known travel website and mobile application developer KAYAK, chose to continue its growth in Connecticut. Persuaded by the state's array of financial and technical resources, a skilled and creative workforce, and growing network of innovative companies, KAYAK committed to renovating an existing site in Stamford.

Datto Inc. was founded in the basement of CEO Austin McChord's home in Norwalk, and he is determined to keep the company Connecticut-based. Placing #38 on the "Inc. 500" list of the fastest-growing companies, Datto is a prime example of the kind of investments DECD wants to make because young, flourishing innovative companies are creating the most jobs. DECD helped the company, which anticipates hiring at least 100 high-wage employees over the next two years.

Connecticut's software industry attracted the most venture capital of any industry last year, and in March the governor announced DECD support for an emerging leader in this burgeoning sector, CORE Informatics, LLC. The company provides innovative, web-based data management software to help clients improve their research, development, and manufacturing operations, with a concentration in the biotechnology sector.

Opportunities abound for Connecticut companies—and the state as a whole—in the international marketplace. Foreign companies are also finding great rewards from investing in Connecticut. Several trade and foreign direct investment events in 2013 and 2014 illustrate the point.

DECD entered into an agreement with Israel's Tech Transfer Organization (ITTN), the first step in laying the foundation for better and more productive economic and research collaborations between Connecticut and Israeli businesses, research institutions and universities. The pact was signed by Commissioner Smith while leading a trade delegation from the state to Israel focused on aerospace, clean energy, biotechnology, finance, insurance, and precision manufacturing.

DECD and ITTN will now be able to collaborate in the effort to connect Israeli and Connecticut partners for research, development, pre-clinical and clinical studies, and manufacturing. Just a few months later, Israel-based Applango Systems, with financial support from DECD, opened its U.S. headquarters at the Stamford Innovation Center, one of the state's startup incubators that is funded in part through the state's early-stage investment arm, Connecticut Innovations.

DECD IN ACTION

DECD continued to build a strong relationship for Connecticut with western European industry with a state financial assistance investment of $6 million in BYK USA's $53 million, state-of-the-art expansion of its manufacturing capacity in Wallingford, the parent company's single largest investment outside Germany.

DECD is very active in showcasing the state on the international stage. Throughout the year the department participated in several international trade shows to promote Connecticut's competitive advantages as well as its leading-edge companies.

Medica — Since 2006, five of the six New England states' trade offices (CT, ME, NH, RI, VT) have joined to secure booth space at Medica, the world's largest medical trade fair, featuring 4,000 exhibitors annually in Dusseldorf, Germany. It is a prime example of regional collaboration to achieve an economy of scale, reduce costs and leverage resources. The three Connecticut companies who participated in the 2013 Best of New England booth reported $1,025,000 in anticipated export sales.

Hannover Messe — In April, the Connecticut Center for Advanced Technology, Inc. (CCAT) and DECD partnered to showcase the region's hydrogen and fuel cell capabilities at Hannover Messe 2014 in Germany, the leading international trade show for industrial technology innovations. Supported in part by funding provided by DECD, quasi-public CCAT administers the Northeast Electrochemical Energy Storage Cluster (NEESC), a consortium of the hydrogen and fuel cell industry in the northeastern U.S.

DECD met with more than 20 international companies during its participation at Hannover Messe 2014 to discuss opportunities to do business in Connecticut.

Many of Connecticut’s towns have a proud manufacturing history, stretching back to the beginnings of the industrial revolution. Unfortunately, that legacy includes hundreds of “brownfield” sites: parcels of land that harbor heavy metals, petroleum-based substances, and other by-products of old manufacturing processes.

These are often found in high-density locations near water- and land-based transportation routes that serve those industrial operations.

Under the Malloy administration, the pace and levels of investment in the remediation and redevelopment of brownfield sites has picked up dramatically. In fact, since 2011 the state has allocated nearly $90 million in state funding in the form of loans and grants to municipalities and developers. By comparison, since 1995, the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency has invested $190 million nationally for brownfield cleanup.

In January, DECD launched a newly created Statewide Office of Ports, Brownfields, and Transportation Oriented Development. The office continues to direct and manage DECD’s investments to recover properties suffering blight due to contamination, but is also focused on strengthening the partnerships with Connecticut’s Department of Energy and Environmental Protection (DEEP) and the Department of Transportation (DOT) to help guide growth strategies moving forward.

Recognizing the importance of airports as drivers of economic growth, DECD joined the Connecticut Airport Authority and Governor Malloy in September to announce the creation of an economic development incentive zone at the state’s busiest general aviation airport, Waterbury-Oxford. Qualification for the incentives – a five-year, 80% local property tax abatement and a 10-year, 25% credit on corporate business taxes – are certified by DECD staff.

DECD in Action

DECD provided $500,000 to assist in the remediation of the property at 20 North Water Street in Norwalk. Financial assistance is helping to make way for a new mixed-use development that will include retail and office space, and 107 units of housing.

The state's award-winning Connecticut still revolutionary brand and related advertising campaigns have generated dramatic shifts in perception about the state since launching in the spring of 2012. Connecticut is seen as a more inviting, welcoming, unique and engaging place to tourists and businesses alike.

The department continued to build brand momentum throughout the year, rolling out the next wave of tourism advertising titled Revolutionary Thoughts. It's a campaign that showcases across multiple media platforms a diverse array of experiences travelers can enjoy within close proximity. Ads playfully communicate through unique pairings of more than 110 identifiable arts, history and tourism destinations from all areas of the state the idea that escaping to Connecticut offers travelers a diverse balance of relaxing and active, historic and contemporary, cultural and nature-oriented activities — all without having to drive too far.

On the economic development front, a new economic development ad campaign was launched in May featuring leaders from Fortune 100 companies to Main Street businesses highlighting the benefits of doing business in Connecticut. The strength of the Connecticut business story has always been found in select key attributes: innovation, location, support and, especially, talent. This spirit strongly comes through in the campaign titled Meet the Job Creators.

Initiatives are driving real measurable, revolutionary results:

- 63% of those reached by advertising reported taking some action to explore Connecticut, up 22%;
- 6.3 million visitors used the state's official tourism website, CTvisit.com;
- 850,000 visitors assisted in our official tourism welcome centers;
- 240,000 actively engaged social media followers on Facebook, Twitter, Pinterest and Instagram;
- New $5 million economic development campaign increased Connecticut's ratings as a place for doing business in all 20+ different categories:
 - “a dynamic, innovative state” up 72%
 - “friendly place to do business” up 38%
 - “great place to relocate existing business” up 50%
 - “great place to start anew business” up 43%

Connecticut’s businesses are the backbone of our communities. They sustain families, provide unique goods and services, jobs, and support community-based initiatives that help build the fiber and character of neighborhoods and towns.

The following examples show how DECD business assistance supports local economies.

American Woolen Company – An Economic Rebirth

When the Italian luxury brand Loro Piana closed its Warren Mills plant in December, one of only two operating textile mills in the U.S., it was bad news for Stafford Springs – dozens of factory workers were laid off. But American Woolen Company, Inc., led by a young entrepreneur from Florida, saw an opportunity in Connecticut. With DECD support, the mill was on track to be back up and running by September – with plans to rehire many of the skilled workers who had lost their jobs.

“What really drew us to Warren were the people. The workers were happy, and took pride in what they did.”
— American Woolen CEO Jacob Long

Investing in Main Street

In March the governor announced DECD support for family owned and operated Bakery on Main, a certified Kosher Parve, small-batch natural foods maker. Bakery on Main will more than double its workforce over the next four years serving the multi-billion U.S. market for gluten-free foods, from downtown East Hartford.

Supporting Family Owned Businesses

Contributing $1.9 billion annually to the gross state product, electrical equipment represents 8% of Connecticut’s exports and 7% of the manufacturing sector. For nearly 40 years, family owned and operated manufacturer Neeltran Inc. has built a reputation for corporate citizenship in New Milford and for its leadership in growing and improving lower Litchfield County.

1,000th EXP

Small Business Express

Governor Malloy’s Small Business Express Program, or EXP, is one of the agency’s most powerful tools used to help strengthen Connecticut’s small businesses and the state’s overall economy. In March, DECD marked the 1,000th company assisted through the program: Microboard Processing Inc., or MPI, a woman-owned business in Seymour that provides electronics manufacturing services to the world’s leading high-tech industrial markets. The company received a $300,000 loan and $100,000 matching grant for renovations, purchase equipment, and to develop its advanced manufacturing capabilities. MPI committed to retaining 81 positions and creating 10 new jobs.

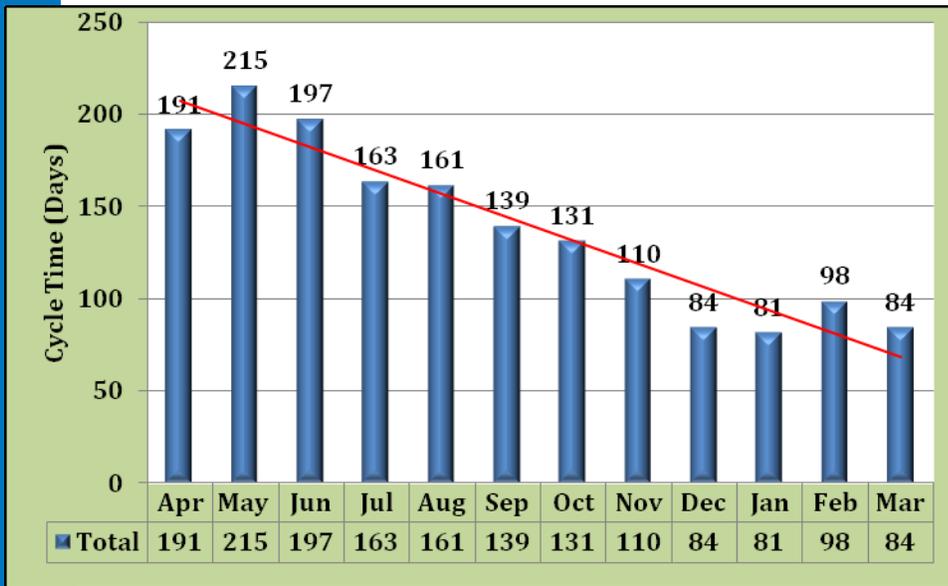

“Express supports our small, local companies and ensures that they have the resources they need to keep Connecticut residents working and the Connecticut economy expanding. I am thrilled that MPI is the 1000th company to take advantage of the program.”

— Catherine Smith. DECD commissioner

DECD collaborates with—and provides funding to—dozens of other partners across the state to spur economic development at the local and regional levels.

To leverage decades of success in a critical sub-sector of Connecticut’s economy, for example, we provided $2 million to long-time DECD partner HEDCO, or the Hartford Economic Development Corporation, in support of its Minority Business Enterprise Assistance Program that helps small contractors obtain bid, performance, and payment bonds they need to successfully compete for construction contracts, and the working capital contractors need to complete the work.

This illustrates the collaborative approach the state is taking to ensure Connecticut businesses have a broad network of support services so they can compete, grow and prosper.

The above chart displays the number of days that were eliminated from processing Small Business Express (EXP) projects after implementing LEAN techniques into the program.

As part of its ongoing efforts to be more responsive to the needs of Connecticut’s business community, DECD rolled out its new Agency Ambassadors initiative to strengthen the department’s relationships with employers. The goal of the program is to keep companies investing, competing, and growing in Connecticut with support — technical or financial — from DECD and its partners on the economic development team.

Through LEAN, the department continued to look at ways to improve efficiency and eliminate waste in its procedures with the goal of better service for customers.

To improve transparency in state programs, DECD joined Comptroller Kevin Lembo in launching a new economic development website, detailing the agency’s job creation efforts. Under Governor Malloy’s Executive Order No. 38, the agency collaborated with the Department of Revenue Services (DRS) to establish a searchable database on the DECD website that included an interactive map with information concerning the size, type, and location of businesses that received assistance. Users can now download and evaluate data on a quarterly basis on all of DECD’s programs.

The state now has a data site for all agencies, which enhances access to information for many state agencies.

Also at the state level, recommendations were incorporated into legislation the governor submitted to the General Assembly. Public Act 14-187, which eliminated over a thousand pages of regulations, was signed into law in June.

DECD is the state's lead agency responsible for strengthening Connecticut's competitive position in the rapidly-changing, knowledge-based global economy.

Its strategic investments to support business growth are paying off. Here's a snapshot of fiscal 2014:

- 308 companies are being assisted, with 3,130 jobs to be created and 7,072 jobs retained;
- $4.44 million has been leveraged from the private-sector to grow jobs and expand the economy through these programs.

DECD will continue to follow-through on its economic development strategy, monitoring progress and making adjustments along the way. And the department will work to strengthen the public-private partnerships that are putting Connecticut on a growth trajectory for years to come.

For a more detailed analysis of DECD's accomplishments during the year, the following sections take a closer look at DECD's projects, programs and portfolios. And of course, you can also visit www.decd.org for more information.

I. BUSINESS DEVELOPMENT

A. Connecticut's Economy During FY 2014

The Connecticut economy experienced growth two years in a row since the Great Recession of 2008. The Real (adjusted-for-inflation) Gross State Product (RGSP) increased 0.9% from $231.8 billion in 2012 to nearly $234 billion in 2013, while the U.S. economy grew 1.8%. RGSP is defined as the real dollar value of all final goods and services produced in a given year. It is the most common barometer used to measure the health of the economy. See Table 1 below.

I. Gross State Product by Industry

The Real Estate, Rental and Leasing industry accounted 15.2% of the total state economy in 2013, followed by the Finance and Insurance industry with 14.0% and Manufacturing with 11.2%. The Government and Health Care and Social Assistance industries rounded the top five with 10% and 7.8%, respectively. At the U.S. level, the Real Estate, Rental and Leasing, Government and Manufacturing sectors accounted for more than 38% of the national economy in 2013.

Table 4 provides the Connecticut employment by industry at the two-digit North American Industry Classification System (NAICS) code level. Health Care and Social Assistance is the largest industry in terms of annual average employment which accounted for 15.7% of total employment in 2013. The Government sector experienced employment share declines from 2012 to 2013. Retail Trade industry employment share remained unchanged at 11.2%.

Connecticut's annual average unemployment rate continued to improve from 8.3% in 2012 to 7.8% in 2013, despite the unemployment rate remaining high from a historic point of view. The state's unemployment rate was .4% higher than the U.S.

5. Manufacturing Activity

The manufacturing sectors of an economy are tracked with particular interest due to two characteristics of these types of industries. First, manufacturing sector jobs traditionally have been associated with high value added, a measure of an economic region's standard of living. Second, manufacturing sectors incorporate more parts of the supply chain meaning that they have a high degree of interrelation with other sectors in the local economy. Both of these factors have become less substantial because of the globalization of markets and the stretching of the supply chain.

The manufacturing activities are presented in Table 6 below, such as employment and earnings for all manufacturing workers. Connecticut experienced a manufacturing employment decline of 0.8% from 165,100 in 2012 to 163,800 in 2013, while the U.S. showed a 0.7% employment increase during the same period. The manufacturing average weekly hours increased 0.5% for Connecticut and 0.2% for the nation from 2012 to 2013.

The Manufacturing Assistance Act program is DECD's primary funding source for providing direct financial assistance to businesses. MAA was created by the legislature in 1990 to strengthen the state's economy by providing financial assistance to manufacturers and economic-based businesses for eligible economic development project.

Table 9 provides a breakdown of funding by funding source. The EXP program has funded the most companies, whereas the greatest amount of financial assistance has been awarded through the MAA program.

As a result of DECD's business assistance investments of approximately $558 million, an additional $2.2 billion in private funds were invested in Connecticut's economy. In other words, for every dollar invested by DECD, $3.92 dollars were invested by private industry.

The department's assistance is closely aligned with target business clusters, with thirty seven percent (36.5%) of DECD business assistance invested manufacturing and nineteen percent (19.2%) in the finance and insurance sector.

C. FY 2014 Job Audit Results

DECD's financial assistance agreements with businesses generally require the creation and/or retention of jobs as of a specific date as a condition of financial assistance. Companies with these requirements may have from two to five years within which to reach the agreed upon job goals. DECD or an independent public accountant conduct job audits required by contract that cover a specific period in which the companies are required to have these positions in place. In cases where companies fail to reach their targets, DECD assistance agreements require companies to repay all or a portion of their financial assistance; have their loan interest rates increase; and/or reduce the amount of incentive that may be available, such as in the case with tax credits that may be awarded.

The following information in Table 12 is a summary of job audits that have been conducted as of June 30, 2014. This information represents the results of the companies in DECD's business assistance portfolio that have contractual employment obligations.

Table 12: Business Assistance Portfolio Job Audit Results as of June 30, 2014

Table 13 shows that 89% of companies met 70% or more of their contractual jobs commitment. As of June 30, 2014, overall contractual employment targets have been exceeded by 3,399 jobs.

DECD's financial assistance agreements are protected against non-performance by including claw-backs in the event that a company is unable to fulfill their contractual obligations. DECD actively enforces the provisions of the financial assistance agreement. Of the 34 companies that failed to reach their job goals 13 had interest rate increases, 8 paid a financial penalty, 1 repaid its loan early, 2 are being evaluated for possible restructuring and 3 had tax credit reductions. Waivers were provided for 7 companies where, in exchange, DECD either (1) obtained additional commitments to remain in the Connecticut or (2) the company had to forgo other benefits that may have been available, such as forgiveness.

DECD is responsible for balancing financial risk and return with the fulfillment of public policy and the agency has strategies and systems in place to safeguard the state's investments. DECD routinely conducts an economic impact analysis as a part of its underwriting process to determine a project's economic benefit to the state, including the incremental increase in tax revenues as a result of the investment. DECD's due diligence process includes several components: a project eligibility review, financial analysis, economic impact analysis, consistency with state land use policies, and technical and regulatory feasibility.

Note: The tax credit amount is net of any reductions due to not meeting job goals.

It is important to note that each person employed as a result of DECD business assistance pays income tax to the state. Assuming each of the 45,855 jobs noted in Table 13 earned the average portfolio wage of $55,259 and paid 3% of their wages in income taxes, the jobs created and retained by DECD business assistance represent approximately $76 million in annual tax revenue to the state.

D. Wage Analysis

Table 15 provides the results of a portfolio wage analysis. Companies in DECD's portfolio paid an average annual salary of $55,259. In addition to surveying DECD's active portfolio, EXP projects with payment dates through July 31, 2014 were surveyed as part of the wage and benefits analysis.

E. Benefits Analysis

The majority of companies in DECD's current business assistance portfolio provide some form of health benefits to their employees. Of 430 respondents to questions regarding healthcare benefits, 282 (66%) indicated that they provide healthcare benefits to their full-time employees while 32 (8%) provide benefits to part-time employees. All the survey respondents that do not provide healthcare to employees are small businesses funded through the Small Business Express program.

F. Business Assistance Economic Impact Analysis

Using the Regional Economic Models, Inc. (REMI) Policy Insight model for Connecticut, DECD estimates the impact of its business assistance investments from state fiscal years 1993 through 2014. Table 27 shows the impact DECD's business assistance investments (active investments) have had on Connecticut's economy. The portfolio aggregate is the sum of impacts in 2014 constant dollars from calendar year 1993 through 2014. The economic and fiscal impacts represent cumulative changes from the baseline forecast of the Connecticut economy. That is, as a result of DECD business assistance investments, gross state product increased by more than $4.1 billion dollars over the 22 fiscal-year periods.

The impacts appearing in Table 18 capture the construction and the machinery and equipment spending that occurred as a result of DECD's business assistance investments.

Table 18: Business Assistance Portfolio Economic Impact Change from Baseline in 2014 Constant Dollars
	Portfolio Aggregate	Fiscal Year 2014
Gross State Product	$4,154,361,134	$560,474,650
Personal Income	$4,284,910,235	$604,370,000
State Net Revenue	$520,709,000	$74,999,000

Source: DECD, OFR

The reported impact does not capture the additional output and employment such investment afforded the firms receiving state assistance and is, therefore, a conservative estimate of the benefits of these investments.

The nominal value of the construction, machinery and equipment increased the non-residential capital stock in Connecticut, which is reflected in the towns' increased grand lists and their tax receipts (not reported here). In addition, this analysis captures the debt service the state incurred in funding the business assistance programs offsetting payments made to the state by firms receiving loans and grants. This accounts for the negative impacts in some years because the state’s debt service is not always matched with offsetting outlays.

DECD has not accounted for the ongoing increases in capacity afforded by the business assistance program; therefore, this analysis is conservative.

Estimated Increases in Property Value and Property Tax Revenue as a Result of DECD’s Business Assistance Investments

Table 19 provides the estimated impact that DECD business assistance investments have had on property values in the municipalities in which the investments were made and provides the estimated property taxes generated by DECD’s business assistance investments.

G. Tax Credit Programs

1. Urban and Industrial Sites Reinvestment Tax Credit- C.G.S. 32-9t, as amended

a. Program Description

The Urban and Industrial Sites Reinvestment Tax Credit Program was created under Public Act 00-170 and is designed to drive development and redevelopment activities in eligible communities and to encourage private investment in contaminated properties. Under the program, the state may provide up to $100 million in tax credits over a ten-year period to support projects that create significant jobs and capital investment in these underserved areas. The program has a total tax credit allocation of $650 million under the statute. The following is the schedule of tax credit disbursement.

2. Job Expansion Tax Credit- C.G.S. 12-217pp, as amended

a) Program Description

Connecticut businesses can be eligible for tax credits of $500 per month for each new full-time job created. If the new employee is receiving vocational rehabilitative services from the Bureau of Rehabilitation Services or Mental Health and Addition Services or Developmental Services, receiving unemployment benefits, or is a veteran employee who, at the time of hiring by the taxpayer, is a member of, was honorably discharged from or released under honorable conditions from active service in the armed forces, then the tax credit is increased to $900 per month. These credits will be available for each new employee hired between January 1, 2012 and prior to January 1, 2014 for period of three years. The credit may be applied against the following taxes:

- Insurance premiums tax under chapter 207 of the general statutes
- Corporation business tax under chapter 208 of the general statutes
- Utilities company tax under chapter 212 of the general statutes
- Income tax under chapter 229 of the general statutes

b) Program Activity

Tax credits for this program will begin to be earned after January 1, 2012. DECD received a total of 1,281 applications as of June 30, 2014. Total tax credits allocated under this program, the Qualified Small Business Job Creation Tax Credit, the Jobs Creation Tax Credit Program, and the Vocational Rehabilitation Job Creation tax Credit is $40 million. 3. Insurance Reinvestment Fund Program- C.G.S. 38a-88a(a), as amended

c) Program Description

The intent of this program was to capitalize on the base of local insurance expertise and help people laid off after the massive restructuring of the insurance industry. The program was also intended to encourage small insurance startup and specialty insurance businesses in Connecticut and to create new jobs by investing in Connecticut companies engaged in the insurance business or providing services to insurance companies. Credits can be applied to insurance company, hospital and medical services corporations taxes (Chapter 207 of the Connecticut General Statutes (C.G.S.)); corporate business tax (C.G.S. Chapter 208); income tax (C.G.S. Chapter 229); and surplus lines broker tax (C.G.S. Section 38a-743). The following is the schedule of tax credit disbursement.

4. Connecticut Insurance Reinvestment Fund Program – C.G.S. 38a-88a(c), as amended

a) Program Description

The new provisions of the program provide a 100% insurance premiums tax credit to insurance companies that invest with approved fund managers who will provide financing to eligible Connecticut business, including 25% committed to green technology businesses and 3% to pre-seed investments. Principal and interest payments made on loans are to be dedicated to the "small business assistance account," which is to be expended by DECD for economic cluster-related programs; job training finance demonstration programs; job training or retraining meeting quality management standards; energy and environmental technologies deployment centers; pilot programs for matching grants for construction, renovation, or improvement of small manufacturing facilities; manufacturing competitiveness grants; and other targeted and general manufacturing initiatives and small business assistance. The amount of loans is capped at $500,000 for each recipient and at $15 million for all recipients.

As of June 30, 2014, 142 loans/lines of credit were approved for $12,144,630 and $2,523,000 has been repaid.

I. Clusters

1. Insurance and Financial Services

DECD collaborated with the IFS Cluster and various public and private partners and stakeholders to implement strategies that help the industry grow and prosper in the state. This collaboration included the fifth Actuarial Boot Camp for CT high school seniors and juniors and GET Hired a career fair focused on graduating college students. DECD and the Cluster also collaborated on the Insurance Market Forecast which includes an up-to-date analysis of the industry in CT and trends for the future.

2. Aerospace and Advanced Manufacturing

DECD continues to support the efforts of the Aerospace Components Manufacturers (ACM) and other manufacturing associations by attending key meetings and promoting the importance of the industry and cluster. The agency encourages technology and business development opportunities through its investments in partner organizations such as CCAT, CERC as well as pursuing federal funding opportunities that will further the competitiveness of manufacturing in Connecticut. Specifically in the area of international business development initiatives, DECD partners with CCAT's manufacturing and supply chain initiative to promote the state's aerospace and defense industry at key air shows by exhibiting at the world's largest international air shows, which alternate between Farnborough, U.K. and Paris, France. In 2014 the legislature passed the Manufacturing Innovation Fund, which DECD is administering. It opened for business with a new "voucher program" in the fall of 2014. Results of that Fund will be published in future Annual Reports.

3. Bioscience

Connecticut has become a nucleus of bioscience advances – from groundbreaking research in personalized medicine to device manufacturing of the latest medical technology. Bioscience companies of all sizes are taking maximum advantage of the state's dynamic intersection of intellectual capital and practical expertise.

From groundbreaking researchers – and world-class manufacturers to data-savvy health insurers – first – tier health providers, pharmaceutical pioneers and global medical device leaders, all kinds of bioscience innovators find Connecticut a supportive environment for growth. Connecticut is ranked #5 in the US for percent of scientists/engineers in the workforce and a 33% higher concentration of high-tech workers than the national average.

Connecticut Innovations manages the Connecticut Bioscience Innovation Fund (CBIF) that seeks to drive innovation and commercialize bioscience breakthroughs throughout Connecticut by providing focused financial assistance to startups and early stage businesses, as well as non-profits, accredited colleges, and universities. Since July 2014, CBIF has awarded funding to 9 different recipients, each with approximately $500,000.

4. Green Technologies

DECD continues the development of Connecticut's Fuel Cell industry through the development, manufacture and deployment of fuel cell and hydrogen technology and associated fuel systems. Two of the world's largest hydrogen/fuel cell original equipment manufacturers are here in Connecticut - FuelCell Energy which recently announced a major expansion of its manufacturing facility in Torrington to meet market demand, and Doosan Fuel Cell America which recently purchased the assets of ClearEdge Power and is expected to expand its South Windsor headquarters. In addition, DECD supports the work CCAT and UConn do in the emerging green technology field as well as partner with the CT Green Bank, which provides financial support to companies who want to reduce their carbon footprint.

5. Digital Media

The Digital Media cluster is managed by the Connecticut Office of Film, Television & Digital Media (OFTDM).

The OFTDM's efforts to increase digital media production in Connecticut and develop the state into a nationally recognized center for television, digital animation and sports entertainment programming is succeeding. With three tax credit programs (Production, Infrastructure and Digital Animation Production Company), an emerging workforce, diverse locations and award-winning client service, the OFTDM keeps Connecticut on the short list of preferred destinations to conduct production operations or to establish a locus from which to do business.

The OFTDM offers experience-based support to the networks, production companies, and individual practitioners that comprise this expanding sector and its significant associated economic productivity and an online Locations Gallery featuring thousand of locations as well as an online Production Resource Directory with over 1100 listings representing Connecticut's depth of infrastructure, crew base and locally available vendors.

6. Tourism

Connecticut's Tourism Industry Cluster is administered by DECD's Office of Tourism (COT). Close working relationships with the Connecticut Tourism Advisory Council, comprised of business leaders representing the diverse segments of the industry including lodging, attractions, culture, gaming and destinations, help guide COT's direction and develop essential tools, programs and educational opportunities for continuing the growth of this cluster. Job growth in the leisure and hospitality sector has consistently out-performed most other industry sectors in Connecticut throughout 2013 and 2014, recovering all of its prerecession jobs and continuing to add jobs beyond its prerecession level, a 7.3% growth rate, according to the Dept. of Labor.

During FY 2014:

- 110 identifiable arts, history and tourism destinations from all areas of the state were featured in COT's new TV and digital advertisements; 346 destinations were featured in its public relations efforts
- The Connecticut still revolutionary brand recognition increase
- COT furthered its social media community, now more than 240,000 fans:

- www.facebook.com/VisitConnecticut
- www.twitter.com/ctvisit
- www.youtube.com/user/ConnecticutTourism
- www.pinterest.com/visitct
- www.instagram.com/ctvisit
- 300 industry members networked at the Annual Conference on Tourism, April 24, 2014
- 400 industry stakeholders attended COT Outreach Meetings held all across the state inviting their input to the state’s cluster initiatives

- Hannover Messe 2014 in Hannover, Germany- participation in the Energy Hall’s hydrogen and fuel cell exhibit resulted in $895,000 in anticipated export sales for Connecticut sub-exhibitors in the booth
 - Farnborough Air Show 2014- participation in one of the world’s largest aerospace and defense trade shows resulted in $34 million in anticipated sales for the Connecticut booth’s sub-exhibitors
- Connecticut participated in lead generation opportunities at multiple SelectUSA events, including the organization’s first international Summit and Reshoring Forum, both held in Washington, DC, and the Austrian Investment Forum in Linz and Vienna, Austria

K. Enterprise Zones

The goal of the EZ Program includes, but is not limited to, increasing private investment, expanding the tax base and fostering job creation for residents of enterprise zones. The program also reduces property abandonment and housing blight in these zones. Measures of performance include:

- Number of companies certified;
- Number of jobs created by industry and by town; and
- Square footage leased, purchased, expanded or renovated.

I. Connecticut Enterprise Zone Performance

For the period November 1, 2012, to October 31, 2013 (local tax cycle), DECD certified 37 companies for EZ-related incentive benefits. Another 72 pre-applications were received and reviewed in anticipation of certifications in 2013. The gross floor space of all the projects certified in 2013 was 1,174,550.00 square feet. In addition 1,583 jobs were retained and 521 new positions were projected by certified businesses.

The following tables provide details on Connecticut’s EZ Program activity in FY 2013, based on the most recent data available.

2. Airport Development Zones

During the period of October 1, 2013 – September 30, 2014, the Bradley Airport Development Zone and Waterbury-Oxford Development Zone both experienced ongoing interest. One applicant for the Bradley Airport Development Zone was approved during the period of October 1, 2013 – September 30, 2014. Multi-Mode Logistics, LLC of Windsor Locks, CT was approved by the CAA Board for benefits under the Bradley Airport Development Zone in March 2014. The company acquired a 46,000 SF facility in Windsor Locks, CT and is utilizing the space for warehousing and distribution. Multi-Mode indicated that six new jobs have been created at the facility.

One applicant for the Waterbury-Oxford Airport Development Zone was approved during the period of October 1, 2013 – September 30, 2014. Autonomy Technology Inc. chose Oxford, CT for its first east coast facility and acquired a 10,073 SF portion of an idle facility to manufacture and distribute cable assemblies and portable power products. After being approved by the CAA Board in June 2014, Autonomy became the first company eligible for the Waterbury-Oxford Airport Development Zone. The company indicated that, after considering sites in New York, its decision to locate in Connecticut was significantly impacted by the airport development zone benefits. Autonomy's move to Oxford brought six jobs initially, and the company has already created three new, full-time jobs and one part-time job.

The other companies already existing in airport development zones also provided updates on their progress, their operations in and around the airport, and how they have impacted business with the airport and surrounding companies. Nufern, Inc. of East Granby, CT has been able to increase its manufacturing capacity at its expanded and renovated facility.

International Transfer Service, Inc. (ITS) of Windsor, CT indicated that it is increasingly collaborating with area businesses and expanding its sales efforts. ITS has also experienced a 30% increase in cargo volume over the past year. The company delivers to and picks up from various businesses on and around Bradley International Airport.

Merchandising Partners, LLC of Suffield, CT has continued investing in equipment at its facility, including the addition of a second CNC router which allowed the company to double its capacity. Merchandising Partners also installed a new air compressor and drying system, and it purchased a 24-foot box truck to handle distribution throughout Southern New England.

Metal Finish Equipment and Supply Company of Suffield, CT has continued growing since its inclusion in the zone, and the company's revenues have more than doubled over the past 18 months. Metal Finish also indicated that, as the business has grown, its travel budget has increased substantially. The company estimates that its airfare expenditures have risen 300-400% since its inclusion in the zone.

Two preliminary applications were recently approved by the CAA Economic Development Committee for the Waterbury-Oxford Airport Development Zone. The companies involved are XAL Inc. and Jasco Battery Specialists. Both pre-applications are currently awaiting consideration by the full CAA Board.

Staff has also responded to several inquiries from other interested businesses regarding the benefits of the Airport Development Zone program, and another preliminary application is currently pending staff review and committee approval. Additionally, staff has responded to municipal inquiries regarding the provision of property tax abatements.

 Total Expenditure on construction, acquisition and equipment $1,802,423.40
 Additional jobs 15 full-time

- Total ADZ Program

3. Enterprise Zone Property Tax Abatement

The Distressed Municipalities Property Tax Reimbursement Program provides a five-year state reimbursement of a portion of the property tax loss towns sustain as a result of property tax exemptions granted to qualified manufacturing facilities in designated municipalities.

From November 1, 2012 to October 31, 2013 the state's portion of the total property taxes abated was $5,800,000. This figure represents 40% of the total eligible property tax liability for companies within Connecticut's EZ and ECZ communities. The total eligible property tax can be estimated by reversing the abatement formulation equation. Based on this approach, the total eligible property tax liability for FY 2012-13 was approximately $14,500,000. Through the program, 80% of this total was abated ($11,600,000). Of the $11,600,000, 50% came from the State and the other 50% came from the participating municipalities. Companies receiving the abatement paid 20% of their eligible property tax liability that amounted to $2,900,000. Table 32 details the amount paid to each participating municipality during fiscal year 2012-13.

M. Office of the Permit Ombudsman

The Office of the Permit Ombudsman was created within DECD to expedite the regulatory state agency approvals for qualifying economic development projects. The role of the Permit Ombudsman is to serve as a catalyst for the creation and expansion of business in Connecticut by providing comprehensive permit assistance and streamlining the regulatory compliance. The permit assistance staff acts as a facilitator between state regulatory agencies and businesses to prioritize projects through regulatory approvals and resolve permitting issues.

During FY 2014 the Office of the Permit Ombudsman, among other things, has:

- Prepared the Flood Management General Certification for Disaster Recovery (FMC-DR) construction activities funded by the DECD, SHPO and DOH within regulated floodplain areas located in communities impacted by Superstorm Sandy. The executed FMC-DR will be active thorough the year 2024.
- Led ongoing efforts with DEEP, DAS, DOH, and the State Fire Marshal to help Building Material Reuse in Connecticut by eliminating existing roadblocks facing the deconstruction industry.
- Led the ongoing efforts to resolve regulatory issues related to historical pesticide issues throughout the state and coordinated review of State-funded brownfields projects with the State Historic Preservation Office (SHPO) and DEEP for Flood Management Certification.
- Responded to requests for permitting assistance for projects identified in the attached Report Table.
- Coordinated more than 25 pre-application permitting related meetings.
- Participated in the quarterly meetings of the DEEP Solid Waste Advisory Committee.
- Conducted permitting assistance outreach to municipal officials including Norwalk, New London, Danbury, Waterbury and shoreline communities.
- Participated in the ongoing process for transformation of DEEP Brownfield Regulations through the DEEP Remediation Roundtable.

N. Brownfields

A brownfield is any abandoned or underutilized site where redevelopment and reuse has not occurred due to the presence of pollution in the buildings, soil or groundwater that requires remediation before or in conjunction with the restoration, redevelopment or reuse of the property.

1. Investment Analysis

The Office of Brownfield Remediation and Development (OBRD) is a dedicated office within DECD with the primary mission to be a one stop resource for brownfield development in Connecticut. As such, OBRD coordinates the state's response for brownfield assistance to communities and businesses. Brownfield redevelopment projects are usually long term and have a variety of complicated environmental, legal, and financial obstacles to overcome. Hundreds of underutilized or abandoned properties exist in every town in Connecticut. Over the last ten years, DECD has funded 142 brownfield projects with approximately $58 million in funding.

Note: Brownfield Activity includes Dry Cleaning Establishment Remediation Fund projects. It does not include projects funded through the SCPRIF program.

2. FY 2014 Funding Rounds

In FY 2014 OBRD continued the work of contracting and managing the projects awarded in the initial historic $50 million investment of brownfields from funding bill PA 11-57. Several grants and loans associated with the competitive 2013 Round Three were completed. This was the largest offering of brownfield competitive grants which included grant and loans totaling $17 million. Adding to the list of completed projects in 2014 included several Municipal Brownfield Grants dating back to the 2012 funding made available by PA 09-2.

New funding opportunities were also announced for Rounds Four and Five. Announcements were made public through a notice of funding availability (NOFA) process in December 2013 and May 2014. 26 applications were competitively reviewed by a team consisting of representatives from the following offices: OBRD, OPM, DEEP, SHPO, DOH. Round Four awards included 22 grants totaling $3.8 million. Four applications were not funded. Eligible uses for the funds were limited to environmental assessment only. The work to close these round announced in FY 2014 will continue into the upcoming FY 2015.

3. Brownfield Remediation and Revitalization Program

OBRD administers the Brownfield Remediation and Revitalization Program (BRRP) that was enacted through Public Act No. 11-141. Acceptance into the program protects participants from liability to the state or any third party for the release of contamination that participants did not cause, exacerbate, or contribute to and that existed before they acquired the eligible property. Applicants must meet the definition of a Bona Fide Prospective Purchaser, Innocent Landowner or Contiguous Property Owner. The subject property must meet the definition of a brownfield and have been subject to a release of a regulated substance in an amount that is in excess of the remediation standards. This pioneering program is one of the first of its kind in the U.S. and is providing a catalyst for the redevelopment of brownfields in CT.

The DECD Commissioner in consultation with the DEEP Commissioner will determine admission of eligible properties based on statewide portfolio factors for up to 32 projects per year. Applicants who are accepted into the BRRP shall remediate the release of any regulated substance within the property boundary but are not required to investigate or clean up any contamination beyond the property's boundary. Any applicant accepted into the BRRP shall pay DEEP a fee equal to 5% of the assessed value of the land, as stated on the last-completed grand list of the relevant town (subject to certain fee waiver provisions).

During the previous fiscal year OBRD received 6 BRRP applications and issued 6 approvals.

4. Special Contaminated Property Remediation and Insurance Fund (SCPRIF)

The Office of Brownfield Remediation and Development administers the SCPRIF program in cooperation with the Department of Energy and Environmental Protection. The program provides financial assistance through low-interest, five-year loans for environmental investigation, remediation and demolition. Any person, corporation, municipality or business is eligible to apply for SCPRIF.

Loan funds may be repaid upon sale or lease of the property, or upon approval of a final remedial action report done on the property. In the event the assessment determines that redevelopment of the site is not feasible due to the cost of remediation, loans made under SCPRIF may be forgiven under certain conditions. To date, the SCPRIF program has funded 22 loans with a contract value of approximately $2.5 million.

In FY 2014, two applications were approved and none were denied.

5. Dry Cleaning Establishment Remediation Fund

Since January 1, 1995, all dry cleaning establishments have been required to pay a one-percent surcharge on the gross receipts at retail for any dry cleaning services performed. This money is deposited into the dry cleaning establishment remediation account which is a non-lapsing account within the General Fund. Eligible entities can apply to DECD for grants to facilitate the environmental remediation of property contaminated as a result of the chemicals used in the dry cleaning industry. Eligible entities consist of dry cleaning business owners and owners of real estate whereby a dry cleaner is currently or was formally located. The program is available statewide and requires a $10,000 co-pay by the applicant.

The program continues to be active but it continues to struggle to satisfy the needs of the industry as requested funds significantly exceed fund receipts. Despite these challenges, OBRD is committed to administering the Fund efficiently and with a high degree of customer service within the available program funds. As of January 2014, a backlog of 21 applications existed, which as of July 2014 had been reduced to 13; no new applications had been accepted since 2009.

At the request of Commissioner Smith, the Office of Brownfield Remediation and Development (OBRD) has developed a series of initiatives to improve the operations of the Dry Cleaning Fund, including conducting semi-annual information sessions open to the public regarding the administration of the Fund. A new application funding round became available in June 2014 through a new application intake form. The form secures a place in line for future funding rounds and was introduced during the first open public information meeting held on June 30, 2014 in Hartford. In an effort to improve the customer service level of the Dry Cleaning Fund, OBRD made recent website updates that include providing detailed funding waiting lists and updated lists of funded applications.

Since the inception of the program, 83 sites have received $10.7 million in aid, ranging from $30,000 to the maximum grant amount of $300,000. One application was approved for FY 2014. No applications were denied this fiscal year.

II. COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT

A. Investment Analysis

In FY 2014 DECD invested over $76.3 million into 34 community development projects bringing DECD's total investment to over $507 million. Table 42 summarizes DECD's community development activity.

B. Community Development Impact

DECD's broad community development portfolio includes a wide variety of project types including arts and entertainment, economic development planning and technical program support. Community development activities create the environment necessary for sustainable economic growth, stable neighborhoods and healthy communities. Community development activities address the quality-of-life issues that create and reinforce the foundation that effective economic and housing development depend upon for success.

III. OFFICE OF CULTURE AND TOURISM

A. State Historic Preservation Office (SHPO)

1. State Historic Structures Rehabilitation Tax Credit

The State Historic Structures Rehabilitation Tax Credit is a 25% tax credit for qualified rehabilitation expenditures (QREs) associated with the rehabilitation of historic commercial, industrial, institutional, cultural and former government buildings as well as residential buildings of historically more than 4 units to residential use, including rental or condominium units. Partial tax credits are available for mixed residential and nonresidential rehabilitations. QREs are hard costs associated with rehabilitation of the certified historic structure; site improvements and non-construction costs are excluded. Buildings must be listed on the National or State Register of Historic Places, either individually or as part of an historic district. The program has an annual aggregate cap of $15 million in tax credit reservation, and a cap of $2.7 million in tax credits per building.

In FY 2014, the SHPO received nine (9) new applications to the program and reserved $12,912,780.13 in tax credits. The SHPO did not issue any State Historic Structures Rehabilitation Tax Credit Vouchers during FY 2014.

2. State Historic Preservation Tax Credit

The State Historic Preservation Tax Credit is a 25% tax credit for QREs associated with the conversion of historic commercial, industrial, institutional, cultural and former government buildings as well as historic mixed-use buildings to mixed residential and nonresidential use or solely nonresidential use. Residential units can be rental or for sale (that is, condominiums). Nonresidential uses include commercial, institutional, governmental or manufacturing. An additional 5% tax credit is available for projects that include affordable housing. If the project includes an affordable housing component, at least 20% of the rental units or 10% of for sale units must qualify under CGS Section 839a. Qualified rehabilitation expenditures are hard costs associated with rehabilitation of the certified historic structure; site improvements and non-construction costs are excluded. Buildings must be listed on the National or State Register of Historic Places, either individually or as part of an historic district. $50 million in tax credit reservations are available in three year cycles and the per building cap is $5 million in tax credits.

SHPO allocated $33.6 million in tax credits to 17 entities during FY 2014 and received thirteen (13) new applications to this program for future allocations.

3. Federal Historic Preservation Tax Incentives Program

The Federal Historic Preservation Tax Incentives Program was established in 1977 by the National Park Service in response to the Tax Reform Act of 1976, which corrected a long-standing imbalance in the federal tax code that favored new construction. By offering a 20% tax credit for the rehabilitation of income-producing properties, the law helped historic buildings attract major private investment for the first time. Nationwide during Federal FY 2013, 1,155 new rehabilitation projects were approved; 62,923 jobs were created; 7,097 new low and moderate income housing units were created; and $3.39 billion investment dollars were spent on new rehabilitation work. In Federal FY 2013, Connecticut submitted a total of forty-two (42) federal tax credit applications with an estimated private investment of over $143,324,940.00.

4. The Historic Homes Rehabilitation Tax Credit

The Historic Homes Rehabilitation Tax Credit is a 30% tax credit for QREs associated with the rehabilitation of owner-occupied historic homes of 1-4 dwelling units. In the case of multiple dwelling units at least one unit must be owner-occupied. Buildings must be listed on the National or State Register of Historic Places, either individually or as part of a historic district. The annual aggregate cap is $3 million in tax credit reservations, with a $30,000 cap per dwelling unit.

As shown in Table 46, during FY 2014 SHPO issued $850,697.00 in Historic Homes Rehabilitation Tax Credits.

2. The Connecticut Arts Endowment Fund

The Arts Endowment Fund was established by the State of Connecticut to stimulate the development of private sector funding and help stabilize arts institutions. Interest earned on the Fund's principal is distributed annually to Connecticut non-profit arts organizations which have received a minimum of $25,000 in contributions from non-governmental sources in each of the last two years. Grant awards are calculated based on a mathematical formula that rewards those organizations reporting a substantial increase in the amount of private sector contributions received during the prior year. Organizations may use funds for capital projects, general operations, programming, or to build their own endowments. For FY 2014, 110 organizations received funding support totaling $500,066 through the Arts Endowment Fund program.

1. The Marketing Challenge Grant

During FY 2014 the Office of Tourism allocated funding for the Tourism Marketing Challenge Grant program from the Statewide Tourism Marketing Account. This program is designed to create partnerships, increase attendance and visitation to Connecticut tourism destinations, increase overnight stays and extend state and regional marketing efforts. The Marketing Challenge Grants requires matching funds on a one-to-one basis. The program’s primary goal is to enhance the tourism promotion efforts within Connecticut by enabling grant recipients to promote tourism attractions, including events that will draw visitors from outside the state. A second goal is to entice residents of Connecticut to visit destinations within the state.

Nineteen (19) marketing project grants totaling $298,575 were awarded during FY 2014.

2. The Tourism Product Development Grant

The Tourism Product Development Grant program is a trial program, funded through the Statewide Tourism Marketing Account, is designed to develop new tourism products or expand existing ones that build assets valuable in creating a tourism destination. Tourism products for the purposes of this grant include non-profit attractions such as historic sites, museums and galleries, performing arts, science and nature centers, and special events. This grant program strategically supports the need to update the state's current products to keep up with changing consumer interests as well as create new ones capable of attracting visitors to the state. Creating new advantageous travel experiences and expressing Connecticut's sense of place with "mental mortar" rather than "brick and mortar" enhances the state's ability to increase visitation and overnight stays, grow jobs and contribute to the health and economic vitality of the state. The Tourism Product Development Grant requires a 50 percent match with a priority on funding fewer larger iconic projects instead of many smaller projects.

Tourism Product Development Grants were not awarded during FY 2014.
